We know there are a lot of galaxies out there

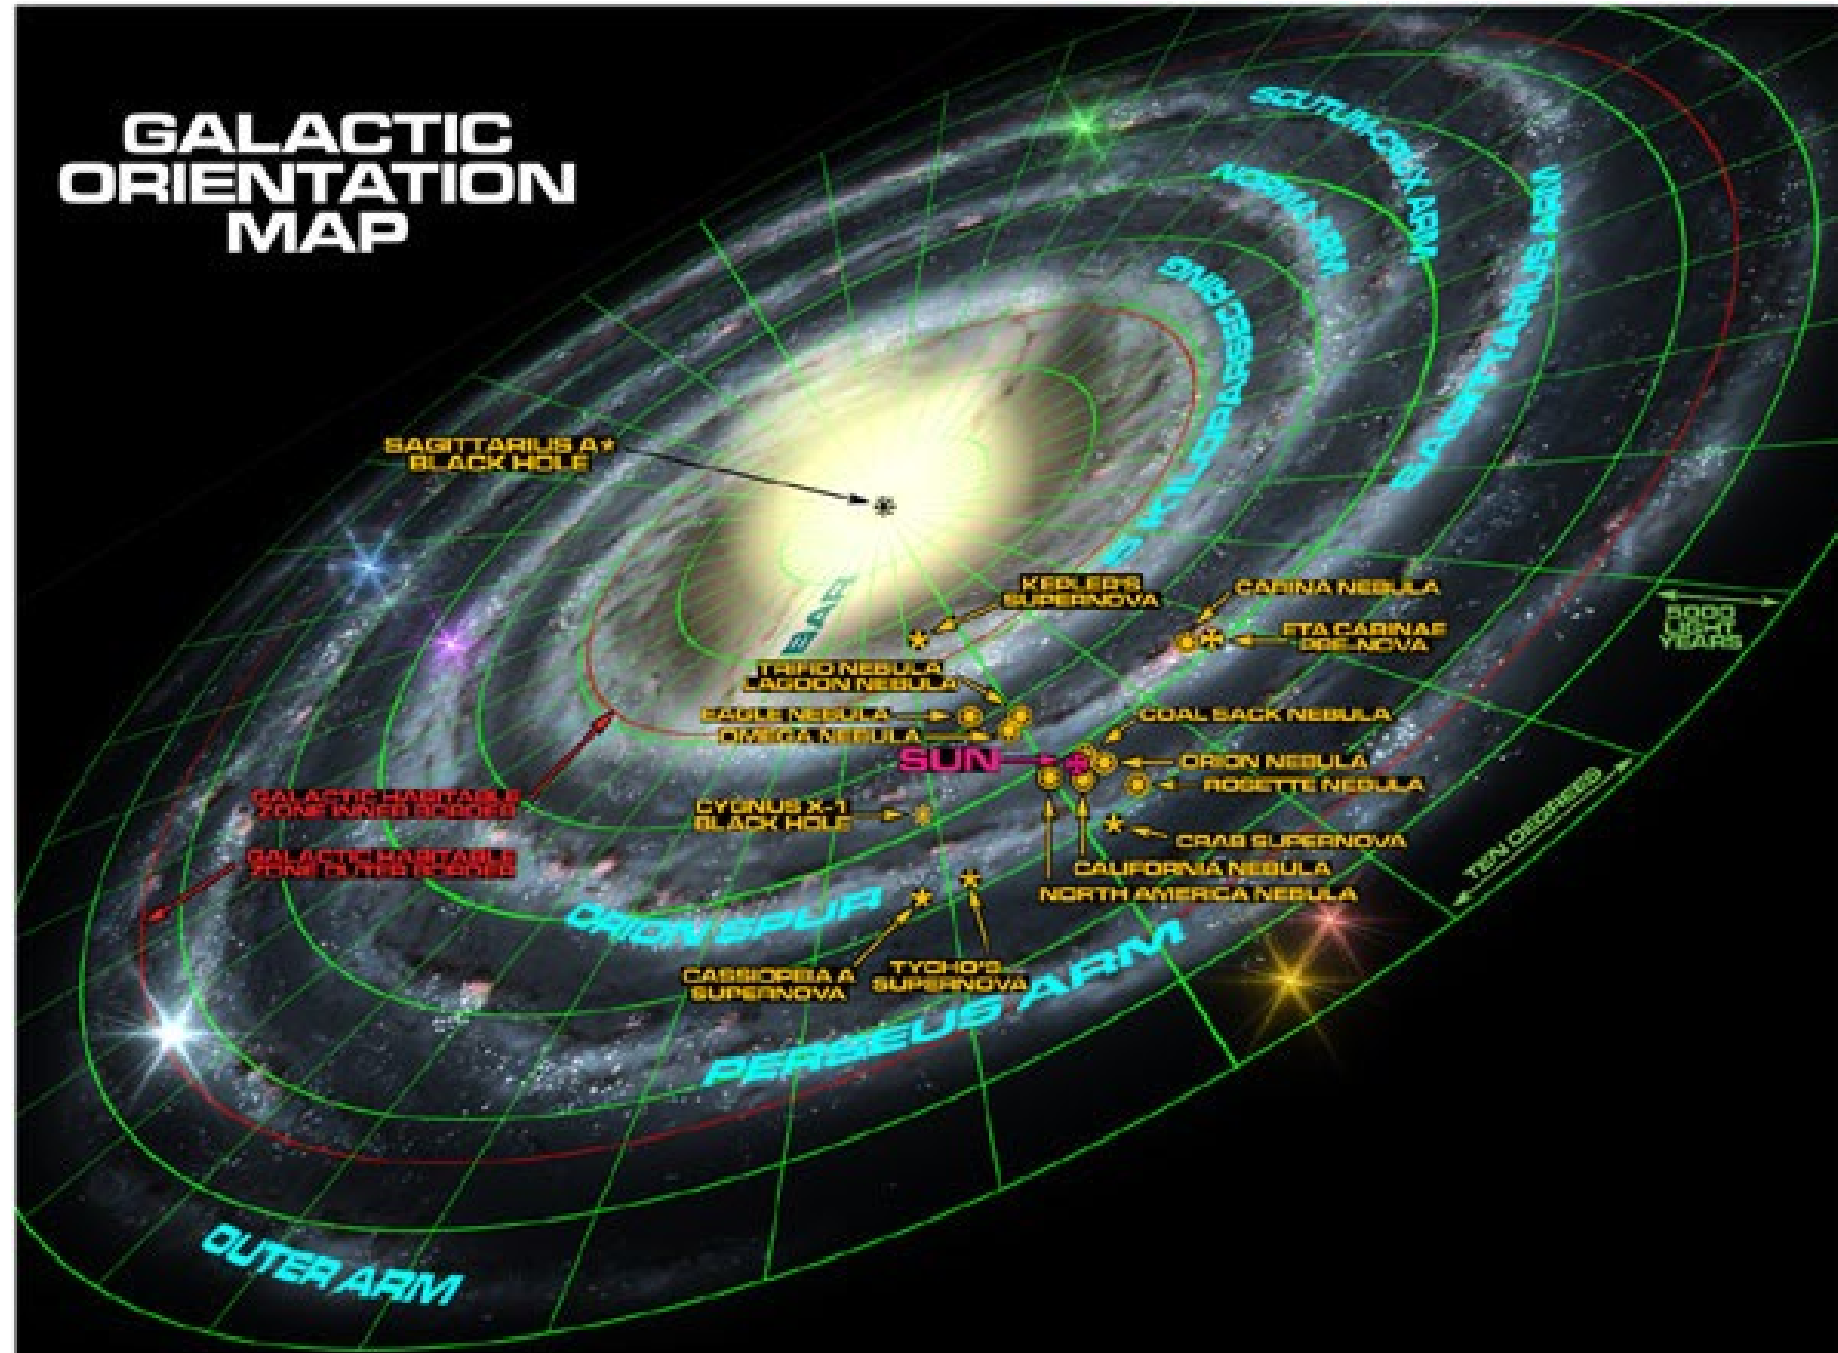

Let's just concentrate on our own Milky Way galaxy for nōw

WHY a UFOLOGY Textbook?

- 1) Our earth is in one of the YOUNGER galactic spiral arms -- see "SUN" in the Orion Spur →
- 2) Inner spiral arms tend to be OLDER stars. And the majority of stars are now known to have planets. Older stars are at least a few billion years older than our sun!
- 3) So Warp Drive must be commonplace among alien races from the inner arms of the galaxy by now = most likely, lots of UFOs visiting us!

Proof that even some of our closest neighbors are almost TWICE as old as we are!

their results. There, she met Cambridge anthropologist Robert Foley, who showed her how evolutionary trees can trace relationships of members of a species over time. Suddenly she realized that stars, too, pass down bits of themselves to successive generations. Perhaps, she thought, these generations could also be traced back in time. Soon, she and Foley hashed out the stellar family tree project at dinner in a Cambridge dining hall — “very much like a Harry Potter room,” she says, where all the fellows wear academic gowns. Stars obviously don’t procreate like animals, the pair agreed, but dying stars do pass on their chemistry.

That happens because stars forge heavy elements, such as carbon and iron. When the stars die, they often explode and spread those elements throughout the cosmos. The next generation of stars, born from collapsing clouds of gas containing those elements, picks up elements from the earlier generation.

And thus a family is born. Stars from the same gas cloud should have almost identical chemistry, something like how siblings have similar DNA. The analogy is close enough that Jofré, Foley and colleagues built a three-branched tree showing the relationships of 21 of the sun’s sibling stars in 2017 in the Monthly Notices of the Royal Astronomical Society. The team also reported that two of the branches were known groupings — one was the Milky Way’s thin disk of stars, and the other was the older thick disk that surrounds it.

The third branch revealed new connections, showing that Jofré’s technique does more than map known star relationships. The approach can reveal new information about past stellar nurseries.

By expanding to more groups of stars, “we could use these trees to learn something about the evolution of our whole galaxy,” Jofré says. “That has been so exciting.”

Other astronomers call the technique original and inventive, if a little unorthodox.

“Paula Jofré impressed me as being very innovative,” says astronomer Kenneth Freeman of the Australian National University in Canberra. “She sees things that other researchers do not see.”

Payel Das of the University of Oxford, a collaborator on the Milky Way project and a close friend, calls Jofré “really brave” as a researcher. “She’s very confident, which is really nice. I think especially now — we’re going through this crisis of women in physics and science and all this — we need this confidence.”

Jofré has never shied away from unpopular paths. Before she graduated from an all-girls high school in Santiago, a guidance counselor spoke to her class about the importance of choosing a career that would leave time for family. One shouldn’t choose a career in, say, astronomy.

“The whole class looked at me,” says Jofré, who had been interested in astronomy since childhood. The moment only strengthened her resolve. “This woman trying to say, ‘please don’t do that,’ was for me an argument to say, ‘please do it.’”

The question of whether astronomy is compatible with a family came up sooner than Jofré expected: Her first child was born before she and her partner, Thomas Maedler, finished their Ph.D.s. Their second was born during her first post-doctoral fellowship. Being the only parents in their graduate cohort was difficult. “You feel quite lonely when you’re the only one,” Jofré says.

But contrary to the guidance counselor’s warnings, parenthood has been grounding for the two and helped keep them focused on what’s important — “which is not like, papers, papers, papers, papers,” as Maedler puts it. “We’re always this little nucleus, the four of us, this little atom that is walking around.”

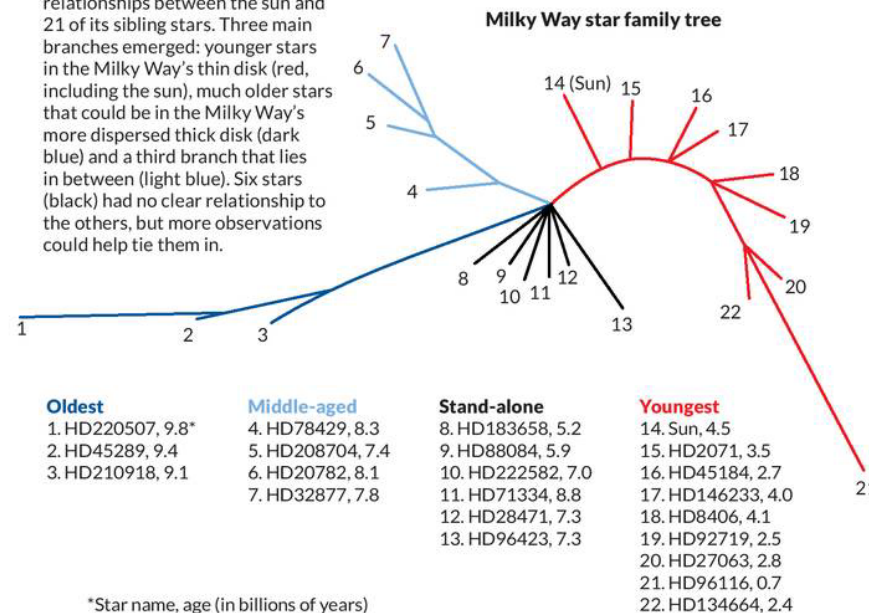

For Jofré, science has been inextricably entwined with family — not just the sun’s, but her own. ■

We could use these trees to learn something about the evolution of our whole galaxy.

JOFRÉ ET AL/MONTHLY NOTICES OF THE ROYAL ASTRONOMICAL SOCIETY 2017, ADAPTED BY T. TIBBITTS

All in the family Paula Jofré and colleagues mapped out chemical relationships between the sun and 21 of its sibling stars. Three main branches emerged: younger stars in the Milky Way’s thin disk (red, including the sun), much older stars that could be in the Milky Way’s more dispersed thick disk (dark blue) and a third branch that lies in between (light blue). Six stars (black) had no clear relationship to the others, but more observations could help tie them in.

Summary

This presentation will describe the ongoing excitement about the search for life and extraterrestrial intelligence (SETI), emphasizing the newest programs and technologies. What makes compelling biosignatures and technosignatures? Are there likely to be any smoking guns? If future discoveries are nuanced or contain many caveats, how do we prepare for public disclosure and education?

Although the search for extraterrestrial intelligence has drawn a blank so far, we are getting better at it all the time, says SETI expert Jill Tarter

Time magazine, January 2020

HOWEVER, academic ivory tower professors and SETI “experts” continue to deny the existence and presence of UFOs and ETs visiting earth.

For them and their students, a university textbook will most often help to make such a new subject understandable and more acceptable.

- Navy carrier sightings on radar began on November 10, 2004, and lasted for several days.
- In the new [Navy] report, the object is described as “solid white, smooth, with no edges,” and being “uniformly colored with no nacelles, pylons, or wings,” just like a Tic-Tac.
- Report says tic-tac object was estimated to be about 46 feet long
- F/A-18 fighters that were trailing it measure around 56 feet in length

Most Documented Account in Military History (until 2004)

James Penniston Staff Sergeant, the primary witness who led the investigation and had a 'Top-Secret clearance.'

The surprise is that the UFO was tracked on military radar by a NATO facility in Rendlesham Forest, England, where it landed and was approached by Penniston who touched the hull. The forest encounter with many witnesses happened on December 26, 1980 but "continued" up to April 2014.

The takeaway was a long binary code transferred to the author, Jim Penniston, who copied it down into his police notebook.

Rendlesham Forest is just outside the twin bases of RAF Bentwaters and RAF Woodbridge in Suffolk, England, both transferred to US Air Force.

ATTN OF: CD

SUBJECT: Unexplained Lights

TO: RAF/CC

1. Early in the morning of 27 Dec 80 (approximately 0300L), two USAF security police patrolmen saw unusual lights outside the back gate at RAF Woodbridge. Thinking an aircraft might have crashed or been forced down, they called for permission to go outside the gate to investigate. The on-duty flight chief responded and allowed three patrolmen to proceed on foot. The individuals reported seeing a strange glowing object in the forest. The object was described as being metallic in appearance and triangular in shape, approximately two to three meters across the base and approximately two meters high. It illuminated the entire forest with a white light. The object itself had a pulsing red light on top and a bank(s) of blue lights underneath. The object was hovering or on legs. As the patrolmen approached the object, it maneuvered through the trees and disappeared. At this time the animals on a nearby farm went into a frenzy. The object was briefly sighted approximately an hour later near the back gate.

2. The next day, three depressions 1 1/2" deep and 7" in diameter were found where the object had been sighted on the ground. The following night (29 Dec 80) the area was checked for radiation. Beta/gamma readings of 0.1 milliroentgens were recorded with peak readings in the three depressions and near the center of the triangle formed by the depressions. A nearby tree had moderate (.05-.07) readings on the side of the tree toward the depressions.

3. Later in the night a red sun-like light was seen through the trees. It moved about and pulsed. At one point it appeared to throw off glowing particles and then broke into five separate white objects and then disappeared. Immediately thereafter, three star-like objects were noticed in the sky, two objects to the north and one to the south, all of which were about 10° off the horizon. The objects moved rapidly in sharp angular movements and displayed red, green and blue lights. The objects to the north appeared to be elliptical through an 8-12 power lens. They then turned to full circles. The objects to the north remained in the sky for an hour or more. The object to the south was visible for two or three hours and beamed down a stream of light from time to time. Numerous individuals, including the undersigned, witnessed the activities in paragraphs 2 and 3.

Deputy Base Commander

Lt. Col. Halt describes the bright lights, the landing legs, and the reaction of the animals nearby.

Halt details the Geiger counter measurements taken the next day.

Deputy Base Commander Halt admits seeing the object which landed.

Southern Mines Only Hold-outs in New Contract

Washington, July 9, (AP) — The odds lengthened today that John L. Lewis would play his new, so-called contract into a grand slam.

With 75 per cent of the soft coal industry signed up for work and shooting at full production by tomorrow, Southern operators still held out against the unprecedented wage pact signed yesterday by most Northern and Western producers.

The Southern Coal Producers association prepared to make its "final decision" at a noon meeting today. Its 100,000 workers are idle.

But one association member acknowledged privately that it looked as though, sooner or later, all would be "forced" to accede. Lewis, it was learned, rejected their request to alter some of the terms in a 50-minute session.

Athens, July 9 (AP) — The Greek government announced that more than 2,000 persons were arrested in the Athens area early today in raids aimed at stamping out a Communist plot to stage a revolution and spread civil war throughout the country.

Minister of Public Order Napoleon Zervas said the zero hour for the Communist stroke was to have been around 1 a. m. tomorrow, when attacks were to have been staged simultaneously in all parts of Greece, bringing the present mountain guerrilla warfare into urban centers.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 police, gendarmes and soldiers staged the lightning raids before dawn this morning, Zervas said. He added that many important Communists already had fled and either were hiding in Athens or in the mountains. Most of those arrested, he said,

0 Flying Discs or Flying Saucers

The following information was furnished to SA [REDACTED] by [REDACTED]

An investigator for the Air Forces stated that three so-called flying saucers had been recovered in New Mexico. They were described as being circular in shape with raised centers, approximately 50 feet in diameter. Each one was occupied by three bodies of human shape but only 3 feet tall, dressed in metallic cloth of a very fine texture. Each body was bandaged in a manner similar to the blackout suits used by speed flyers and jet pilots.

7E

According to Mr. [REDACTED] informant, the saucers were found in New Mexico due to the fact that the Government has a very high-powered radar set-up in that area and it is believed the radar interferes with the controlling mechanism of the saucers.

Billy Meier's Unsurpassed Photos of UFOs

- Billy Meier is a Swiss national who in the 1970s claimed he had been in contact with aliens from the Pleiades star cluster - and had photographs to prove it. (He also has published 40 books in German since then!)

- Published in a 1979 book by former United States Air Force pilot Wendel C Stevens, they later appeared in publicity material for US science-fiction programme The X-Files.

- Now, they are up for auction at Sotheby's in the US, as part of a sale dedicated to space photography.

- 3 December 2019

Sotheby's Space Photography Online auction includes an extraordinary grouping of photographs taken by "Billy" Eduard Albert Meier, a notorious ufologist. One of the photographs in the group was used in 'The X-Files' television series, making it one of the most famous UFO photographs of all time.

Billy Meier's UFO photos also deemed authentic by Joe Tysk, former top investigator/supervisor for USAF Office of Special Investigations (OSI) . Col. Wendel Stevens also conducted extensive polygraph tests on Meier and his acquaintances.

The Antigravity Research of T. Townsend Brown

Many readers may recall the name of T. Townsend Brown (mentioned briefly in the previous article) as it was historically associated with UFOs. Brown was the first director of the now-defunct—but once very active—National Investigations Committee on Aerial Phenomena (NICAP), a Washington, D.C.-based lobby group that was very instrumental in the 1960s for getting congressional leaders interested in the UFO mystery. But what the majority may not realize was that Brown was also a very highly acclaimed physicist who held many patents and worked on a variety of highly classified projects.

It may well have been that Brown served as a very important "link" between the UFOlogical community and work being done in the 40s and 50s on what in scientific circles is best known as "Electrogravitics Systems." There are even some who suggest that Brown's work in this field may have been assisted by his knowledge of the crash landing of a spaceship near Roswell, New Mexico. Because of his close dealings with the government and many private aerospace firms (both in the United States and abroad) he would have easily had access to knowledge considered to be on the "cutting edge."

According to Thomas Valone, a licensed professional engineer and head of the Integrity Research Institute (1377 K Street, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005), some of Brown's early patterns showed designs that look very much like the familiar "flying saucer" seen throughout North America during this time period. In fact, in the group's recently published report titled Electrogravitics Systems—Reports on a New

Propulsion Methodology, Valone sees a very strong tie between Brown's discoveries and the development of the B-2 Stealth Bomber.

"There is," he says, "substantial evidence that the electrogravitics research of the 1950s actually resulted in the B-2 Stealth Bomber auxiliary propulsion system." In the report, an article by Dr. Paul LaViolette is summarized further reach these conclusions:

1. The B-2 charges the leading edges of its wing-like body, with high voltage;
2. The B-2 is shaped just like T.T. Brown suggested an electro-gravitic craft should look, for maximum charge separation;
3. Northrup tested leading-edge charging in 1968;
4. T.T. Brown suggested that the craft should be powered by a flame-jet generator like the

A high-voltage flame-jet generator.

5. Aviation Week admits the existence of "dramatic, classified technologies" applicable to "aircraft control and propulsion" on the B-2;
6. Aviation Week also disclosed that the ceramic RAM on the B-2 outer skin is powdered depleted uranium, which just happens to have a dielectric constant of three times that of the high-K dielectrics tested in the 1950s (barium titanate oxide);
7. The B-2's Emergency Power Units (EPU) can work at high altitudes or even in space, driving an electrical generator;
8. Edward Aldridge, the Secretary of the Air Force, admits that the B-2 creates no vapor trail at high altitudes.
9. The decomposed gases from the EPU's an function as the ion-carrying medium, according to T.T. Brown.

From this point it is not hard to reach out even further and safely conclude that a great deal of what is going on inside Area 51 (Nevada's top secret military base) is based upon the work of Brown and others who long ago saw another way to reach the stars besides utilizing rockets that need very heavy fuel payloads.

After reading the available literature, even seasoned scientists have had to agree that Brown's propulsion methods may be our best bet in reaching out to the planets in our solar system that we might possibly be able to visit even now if these discoveries were not being kept under lock and key by those few who would deem it necessary to utilize this valuable knowledge for their own private gain.

John Searl's Work

British engineer John Searl claims to have built over 50 versions of his own "flying saucer," and has been receiving media attention—no matter how limited—for a number of years with his claims of having developed a noiseless, propulsion-free, levity disc that requires no fuel and flies vertically when taking off and landing. Searl even makes the bold claim that one of his craft actually flew around the world several times in the early 1970s...apparently without detection. It's claimed that "ultra-high voltage electro-static force fields are developed by segmented rings rotating in the disc's periphery. The craft's direction is controlled by varying voltage around the edge, thus producing unbelievable speed and agility."

A version of the flying disc design that Brown proposed for development under Project Winterhaven.

Radar Spots 'Flying Saucers' In Backyard Of Natl. Capital

By JACK RUTLEDGE

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force today investigated reports that several “flying saucers” had been spotted by radar virtually in its own backyard on the outskirts of the nation’s capital.

Not only were unidentified objects seen on radar—indicating actual substance instead of mere light—but two airline pilots and a newsman saw eerie lights fitting the general description of flying saucers the same night.

Officials could not immediately agree on whether this was the first time radar has picked up flying saucers. Some said it was. All agreed it was unusual.

The objects also were different from the average reported saucer in that they traveled at a relatively slow speed, as well as later disclosing the customary burst that far outspeeds normal airplanes.

identified images on one of his radars — the area surveillance scope, with a range of possibly 70 miles.

The images were slow-moving, going probably 100 to 130 miles an hour. And they were flying in the vicinity of nearby Andrews Air Force Base.

The control center, operated by the Civil Aeronautics Administration, notified the Air Force and also asked planes in the air if they could see anything.

That was around midnight.

Capt. S. C. (Casey) Pierman of Detroit, piloting Capital Airlines Flight 807, southbound from National Airport, soon reported seeing seven objects between Washington and Martinsburg, W. Va. He said they changed pace, sometimes moving at tremendous speed, at other times hanging almost motionless.

Chapter 13 Astrosociology Implications of these UFO Events in my book

George writes in "I Rode a Flying Saucer" after these events:

"The pentagon can only mean Washington, D.C. There is no doubt they had 'much to muddle over.' The 'buzz' was accomplished by the saucer beings. The statement that the saucers hoped the Air Force would not intercept them in front indicates that the saucers also knew in advance that there would be an attempt to intercept them.

"Is it coincidence that a letter mailed by me to the Air Force Intelligence Command, at the request of the Saucer beings in the July 18th message, was in their hands when the 'buzz' occurred?

"I do not comprehend how the letter's arrival, the 'buzz,' the reference to the pentagon, and the expected interception, can all be coincidence. My belief is that the Saucer beings timed it that way, to let the Air Force know that this information was authentic. Their return receipt showed they received the letter July 22, 1952. The 'buzz' was on July 26, 27 and 28th."

From p. 20

However, questions can be asked:

- Did the best intentions of the 'Saucer beings' get too much of a reaction which apparently provoked a backlash of USAF defensive actions? e.g., “Jets told to shoot down ‘flying discs’”
- Is that the reason such a mass flyover has not recurred since then? Maybe it created fear instead of the anticipated acceptance by the human population
- The humanoid or Nordic E.T.'s in general seem to have altruistic and perhaps spiritual goals for humankind but often provoke fear instead from such heavy-handed invasions of the earth's airspace as do the Greys who abduct people and erase their memory afterwards.
- Does the famous Brookings Institution report to NASA in 1960 with the section entitled, "The implications of a discovery of extraterrestrial life" still have a serious, weighty effect on the government agency policies with actions designed to avoid putting out the welcome mat (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Brookings\_Report)?

Further Astrosociology Implications of the UFO and ET Events

1. Which alien races are represented in these accounts?
2. Are they assumed to be friendly? And what is meant by that word?
3. Should we be biased toward human aliens rather than greys?
4. Do we assume that the Brookings Report on alien encounters of the future will fulfill itself, in that the superior race imposes religion and values upon the inferior race?

More Astrosociology Implications of the UFO and ET Events

For “end of chapter” questions

1. What about the scientific and technical benefits of UFO and ET technology?
2. If they represent great power intensity in a small space, is that a justified concern for high security that deprives the population of any awareness at all?
3. Should the civilian population accept a “police state” enforcement of unwritten rules concerning “classified” technology?
4. Can the harassment and intimidation of UFO contactees by such government agents be justified? Should it be tolerated? What can be done to involve our Senate and House of Representatives in controlling the overreach present in such suppression?
5. Should the study of documented UFO sightings and landings be made a standard or even “required” part of an Astronomy, Aerospace Engineering, or Space Studies curriculum, in light of recent developments?
